THE FOLEY MINE SOLD.

J. C. Foley and Associates secure the Seine River Property.

A despatch from Houghton, Michigan, states that a number of the copper country capitalists have secured control of the Foley mines in the Seine River district. It is the intention of the purchasers to immediately re-open the property and operate it on a large scale. A company with ample capital will be organized under the laws of Ontario. Among those associated with Mr. Foley is Mr. Ered J. Hawden president of the Houghton County Street Car system, and who will probably be made president of the new company.

The Foley mine was the first mine operated in the Seine River district, and produced considerable gold from its 20-stamp mill, but on account of the then great cost of getting in supplies to the camp it was after a time closed down. Since the advent of the Canadian Northern Railway this year, however, the question of getting in supplies cheaply has been overcome, and it will now be only a matter of efficient management to place the property on a paying basis.

The many friends of Mr. Foley in this district will be pleased to learn that he is to be connected with the mine which bears his name. From advice received by the Miner he will be in Rat Portage in the course of a couple of weeks.

ON THE GROUND FLOOR.

London, May 14. In consequence of the receipt of information regarding the activity of American firms, chiefly engineering, electrical and mining concerns, which are preparing to dispatch heavy shipments to South Africa immediately after peace is declared, the colonial secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, has authorized the dispatch of a commission of experts in engineering, textiles, etc., to traverse the entire country and report immediately on the requirements of South Africa under the new conditions, and the openings for British trade. The committee sails on May 21st.

Say the fallen during the past week to £3,160,000,000, making the national value of the United States one dollar between 24 and 47 cents. This is the lowest price re-

This only accentuates the need of a satisfactory concentration process for lowland ores, which has not become an absolute necessity, unless several mines are to be closed down. Overall, certain grade exists in enormous quantities, but owing to its refractory nature the great bulk of it cannot be profitably treated under existing methods, and unless metallurgical science can come to the rescue, the outlook is most serious.—B. C. Review.

LAYING THE BELL BUOY.

The Mary Hatch sailed early this week for the Big Traverse, having in tow a barge upon which was loaded the huge bell buoy for the dangerous reefs off Sable Island. Mr. John Nash, marine inspector, describing the placing of the buoy says he never saw a harder piece of work than that performed by Captain Morgan and his engineer, who dumped the great piece of machinery and had it in place inside of 10 minutes. The anchor rock weighed 3,000, the ballast ball 1,800 pounds and the chains 1,500 pounds; without counting the structure of the bell buoy itself. Mr. Nash says the buoy will be a great advantage to lake shipping.

LOCAL TALES OF AN HOUR.

A simple Irish peasant woman who had been for some days under a cloud of domestic trouble sought consolation in her religion, and in her own native philosophy, mingling the two in such incongruous manner, that like all true philosophy running in illegitimate channels, it travelled too fast, and overflowed its banks, with the usual result: it became humor.

The woman heaving a deep sigh and addressing herself said: "Ochone!
Cheer up, old woman, God is good, and—the devil is not such a bad fellow after all!"

Talk about the Gladstonian policy of peace at any price, or about certain savage races worshipping an idol, and propitiating intangible evil spirits at the same time, why they are simply rush lights compared to a noonday sun, alongside of that Irishwoman's startling philosophy. Which reminds me that Connee jumped off the train when it stopped here Wednesday night, and turned the blitting rays of his old familiar smile upon the assembled multitude. Where he gazed a beam of light shone, and behind him was impenetrable gloom. He still sits crowned as our Zeus on the Mount Olympus of this constituency. A few god will be reigning there in a few weeks now but the people still look upon Connee as the father, not only of themselves but of the other gods.

WHERE NO EVIL IS.

Goodwin Smith: The catastrophe in Martinique is about the most terrible of that kind that has occurred since the earthquake at Lisbon which gave Voltaire a fit of serious thought and prompted his celebrated poem. It made him deeply feel the hollowness of the optimism of Leibnitz and Pope, and pressed on his heart that this is not the best of all possible worlds, but a world in which there is a great deal which our finite faculties fail to reconcile with a government of omnipotent benevolence and wisdom. The earthquake, as Voltaire says might have been made to take place in a desert, where it would not have entailed a massacre. Voltaire, in short, was compelled to recognize the mystery of evil. Nor is the existence of that mystery confined to our planet. While a volcano destroys a city and its inhabitants in Martinique, in the constellation Perseus appears a new star, which on every hypothesis seems to indicate some accidental eruption or collision such as would appear hardly compatible with a universal plan.
There is evil, Voltaire plaintively confesses, on earth. There is evil, apparently in the heavens as well. In virtue alone there is no evil. We must take refuge there.

SCIENTISTS WERE WRONG.

A scientific commission, presided over by the governor, M. Montet, assembled in St. Pierre, on May 7, the day before the calamity, for the purpose of studying the phenomena of the volcanic disturbances of Mount Pelée.
It was agreed by the members of this commission that the relative position of the waters and the valleys de-bouching on the sea were such that the scientists could affirm that the security of St. Pierre was complete, and this announcement was made to allay the fears of the frightened citizens.

POPULARITY OF THE MINER.

During the last few months we have been gradually increasing the number of papers issued to meet a constantly growing demand from both foreign and local sources, but in spite of this we have to confess that our judgment has been at fault. When we started to print the issue of Tuesday last a large addition was made to the pressman's pile, but to our surprise this proved inadequate to supply the demand, and in dispatching our agent to the various news stands it was discovered that they were all sold out, the booksellers in some cases stating that they could have sold many more.

In order to insure getting a copy of the Miner, we would advise our numerous local readers who buy the paper from agents, to send us their names and our subscription lists. They will not only then be sure of getting their paper regularly, but will also be contributing a favor to the Miner, as they will then have a better idea of the number of papers required.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The preacher down at Sudbury who made such a brilliant political speech, and referred in such glowing terms to the immense mineral wealth of his district, had evidently been examining the collection plate for a few Sundays previous.

Mr. Hilliard takes one of the News' gratuitous hints: he will plant a mine on the ruins of the charred ruins of the old Hilliard house. But, unfortunately, Mr. Hilliard is not the kind of man to allow moss or ivy to grow around any of his enterprises.

Council members feel pretty safe in the constituency which he carved out with his own hands, since he now has organs at Rat Portage, Fort Frances and Port Arthur, and the Conservative candidate has not one newspaper in the riding to speak a word in his behalf. Besides, the people of the river would be guilty of the blackest kind of ingratitude if they gave him back the prize he promised them and voted for King.

A Special Message of Comfort For Sick and Despondent Women.

Ten years of suffering from treacherous kidney disease laid itself a heavy record of sickness and agony for one frail woman. When we add to kidney suffering, nervousness, sleeplessness, and continued overwork in the home, it makes a condition of life that draws forth our tenderest and deepest sympathies.

Such a condition of life was bringing Mrs. W. Irvine of Queen St., St. John N. B., very close to the dark grave. Notwithstanding the regular use of common advertised remedies and doc-

TO THE ELECTORS.

To the Electors of the Constituency of Fort William, and Lake of the Woods:

Gentlemen—I beg to solicit your vote and influence in my behalf at the approaching general election rendered necessary by the recent dissolution of the Ontario Legislative Assembly.

Though a Conservative, I have never been an extreme party man, and feel that on many questions I may lay claim to the support of all fair minded men who put principal in the leading place and party in the second. I do not pretend to justify or defend all that has heretofore been said and done in the name of Conservatism; but, in spite of blemishes in its history, I believe that the Conservative party has done much for Canada and for Ontario in the past, and is capable of doing much in the future which will rebound to the benefit of the country, and the credit of the party.

As regards the present Government of Ontario, between its mal-administration and its non-administration there is much for the elector to condemn and much to deplore.

The inability or unwillingness of the present Reform Government to amend the School Law and bring it abreast of the times, stamps the said Government as unfit longer to retain the reins of power. The Conservative party, if successful at the polls, will in all earnestness and with full conviction of the importance and gravity of the subject, at once make determined efforts to bring this great question to a satisfactory and successful issue, by correcting abuses, and modernizing the whole system of education.

The scandalous maladministration of the Liquor Laws of the province, in one district at least, merits the condemnation of all right thinking people; and it is idle to suppose that after convicting at infraction of the present liquor law, the government would lift a finger to enforce the new prohibitory act. The much talked of Referendum—a word, which by the way, has no place in any of Mr. Ross' dictionaries or textbooks—is the temporary refuge of a cowardly and sincere government. By holding forth Prohibition as a bait in one hand and insinuating it back with the other by means of the Referendum the province has been insulted and stultified by the government, and the latter should by this reason be sternly dealt with by the electorate.

Such important questions as the best means of developing New Ontario and how the Ontario Government can best assist us in so doing; the ample encouragement of our Agricultural, Mining and Fishing industries; the preservation from waste and destruction of such timber limits as are still left to us, as well as the taking of adequate measures to replace our now been made in the past demands that even wider views must prevail in the future. If elected, I shall at all times strenuously advocate an enlightened, liberal and progressive policy in regard to the development of our mines, the establishment of pulp and paper mills, the improvement of our waterways and the broadest and most generous encouragement to the agriculturist and settler particularly along the lines of easy acquisition of title, and the opening of good roads throughout the constituency.

The matter of education in a new country like this is one of great importance and should be dealt with in a generous manner and this view I shall consider it my duty to persistently press upon the government at Toronto as well the matter of increased hospital accommodation throughout the north-west portion of the province.

It shall be my aim to meet you all before the date of the election and discuss fully these matters deemed important to the constituency and the province at large.

In the meantime I respectfully submit these views for your consideration and in the event of their meeting with your approval I ask you to support me by your vote and influence.

I have the honor to be Your obedient servant,
D. C. CAMERON.

That Were Positively and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment—The Only Actual Cure For Every Form of Piles.

Mr. F. Stokes, 116 Dundas street, Toronto, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with blind, itching piles for years, and could get nothing to stop the constant itching. I was always in pain, until a friend of mine told me of the wonderful cures Dr. Chase's Ointment had made among his acquaintances. I only used one box, and am entirely cured. In gratitude for this marvellous cure, and for the benefit of others suffering as I did, I send you this record of my case."

Mr. Amos P. Fisher, of Somerset, King's Co., N.S., a commercial traveller, well-known throughout the Province, writes:—"It is a great pleasure to inform you that I have been cured of itching piles by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. I was bothered with the above ailment for twelve years, and suffered extreme agony at times. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment I am completely cured, and would recommend it with full confidence to all suffering from the torture of this terrible disease. A Special Message of Comfort For Sick and Despondent Women.

Ten years of suffering from treacherous kidney disease is not itself a heavy record of sickness and agony for one frail woman. When we add to kidney suffering, nervousness, sleepless, and continued overwork in the home, it makes a condition of life that drives forth a most tender and deepest sympathy.

Such a condition of life was bringing Mrs. W. Irvine, of Queen St., St. John N. B., very close to the dark grave. Notwithstanding the regular use of common advertised remedies and doctor's prescriptions, the ravages of disease continued, and friends of Mrs. Irvine said with sad voices, "she was going fast to death."

Just before deathly disease could finish its work, the use of that wonderful life-giver, Pain's Celery Compound, was recommended. Soon, hope—a new hope—cheered the sad heart and brightened up the pallid face. A powerful searching, life-giving agent was working at the root of disease. It was making new blood; it was purifying and strengthening heart and body; it was saving a precious life.

Take comfort and cheer, ye weary, sick and diseased women, from Mrs. Irvine's experience. The remedy that successfully met and conquered her troubles will, without fail, meet your case. Mrs. Irvine speaks of her case as follows:

"I have been troubled for the past ten years with kidney disease and have tried a good many preparations and doctors' prescriptions, but with little or no benefit. For the last six months I have had a great strain upon my system from night-watching and over work. I was breaking down; my friends said, 'I was going fast to death.' I resolved to try Pain's Celery Compound, and used four bottles. My kidneys (trouble disappeared); nervousness and sleeplessness are troubles of the past, and my general health is good. I would like to say, 'I wish you to publish this in the world.' I read it."

THE COLORS PRODUCED BY THE DIAMOND DYES

Are Admired by all Who Have a Taste For Color Beauty.

The colors produced by the Diamond Dyes on all wool, mixed goods, and all cotton goods are admired by all ladies who have a taste for color beauty. There is a depth, fullness and richness in Diamond Dyes colors that many fasteners of other home dyes have never been able to produce.

Garments and materials dyed with the Diamond Dyes show clear and perfect color that stand fast as long as the goods hold together. Colors produced by the common package dyes are dull, muddy and streaked, giving the full proof of adulterations and worthless coloring ingredients. When it is generally understood that Diamond Dyes with all their superior qualities and a guarantee of perfect work are sold at a price as low as poorly prepared dyes, it will be a difficult undertaking to find a woman who will risk her goods with the dangerous adulterations put up in imitation of the Diamond Dyes.

Send your address on a Post Card to Wm. & Richardson Co., Limited, 20 Mountain St., Montreal, P.Q., and you will receive post paid full range of designs in the new Diamond Dye Material and Rug Patterns.

Much mismanagement and waste has occurred in the building of colonization roads. The necessity for such roads will readily be conceded by all parties, but the present methods are loose and bad and we are not securing value for our money. Radical changes are needed in this connection.

I hereby pledge myself, with all the energy I possess, to labor for the recognition of the rights of the laboring man by a properly enforced Alien Labor Act, which will not be a farce, but which, adapted to local circumstances, would be a benefit to the laboring man.

I would also strongly advocate the protection of the rights and interests of the people and the province from attack by greedy and rapacious corporations.

I shall endeavor as far as possible to meet and put myself in touch with the electorate of this large district before the election day and to state clearly my views on the leading questions of the day as far as the province of Ontario is concerned.

To the Free and Independent Electors of the Constituency of Port William and Lake of the Woods:

Gentlemen—At the request of a large number of electors representing various shades of political opinion I have consented to become a candidate for election as the representative of this constituency in the Legislative Assembly of the province of Ontario.

During my residence of 10 years in the riding my personal interests have become bound up in its welfare and progress. In that time a somewhat extensive experience as a lumberman has enabled me to appreciate to a certain degree its great timber, mineral and agricultural resources. THE LATE LORD JUFFERIN.

Caught by a Canadian at Julian's Art Studio in Paris.

Ellis Hopworth Dixon writes to M.A.P. as follows about the late Lord Jufferin:

"I do not think Lord Jufferin ever got over the cruel loss of Lord Ava in Ladysmith. He was devoted to his eldest son, and when he was offered a parting gift on leaving Paris, he chose that Lord Ava should be painted by Benjamin Constant. The handsome young man, who fell at Ladysmith, went to the war something against his parents' wishes. Indeed, he never told them he was going till the night before. The future Marchioness of Buffon is an American—once Miss Flora Hayes, that she has a fortune in every way a desirable thing. Lord Basil met her in Paris when he was with his father at the Embassy.

"Lord Jufferin's passion was for painting, and more than once he escaped from a guard through the camp and put himself, at Julian's studio in Paris, in a Canadian friend of mine's hands. I caught him in the vice-regal art-student, and when he was representing the Canadian in Canada. One day I found a man whom she knew in the round of the office in the Passage des Capucines. That is an excellent English name for a Canadian who comes to a well-known London house to be painted. I don't know how you would have explained a Canadian friend of mine, a Marquis of Paderna, a friend of mine, as I know him, as I know you."

When the Emperor passed her she was much too far off to make her most delicate court courtesies. Lord Jufferin recognized his British Canadian subject at once, laughed heartily at the whole thing, and acknowledged that he had been fairly caught out. I may mention," concludes Miss Ellis Hopworth Dixon, "that the unfortunate vice-regal art-student had half to undergo all the usual torments, indignities, and standing of drinks which are inflicted on newcomers in the men's studies in Paris."

The consternation when the truth became known was, I believe, considerable."
